

Geography

Curriculum Intent for Geography:

All believe we all need to take responsibility for the Global Goals and work together to ensure equality; that we should value the quality of others lives and learn about the local, national and global physical and human environments with all it's 'wows' and 'ows'.

All achieve a good understanding of the world, by comparing geographical similarities and differences, alongside learning about and respecting different cultures;

All create an atmosphere that encourages empathy toward the struggle of others and that accepts the similarities and differences of our people, communities and traditions;

All a family, we share our findings and opinions in a safe and respectful manner; accepting that others may have different opinions, beliefs and experiences.

Implementation of Geography Curriculum:

- Geography is project-related where possible.
- It is a hands on curriculum with exploration of the children's immediate and local environments, from walks around the school to the wider community.
- We relate Geography teaching to real life, for example raising money for Water aid in line with learning about Africa.
- Upper KS2 use the Oddizzi programme to contact schools from different countries and engage with pen pals to compare the children's lives by asking questions and receiving answers.
